

SataBracket Universal Mounting Bracket

When designing this versatile mounting bracket, the manufacturer made it adaptable for various applications. To ensure maximum holding power, we recommend using screws that are at least 1/4 inch thick to attach the bracket to the surface you intend to mount it on. By not including mounting screws, the manufacturer allows the installer to choose the screws that best fit their unique needs, giving them the flexibility to install the SataBracket in the way that works best for the application.
